

Micah Kemp, Assistant Director of Economic Development

The City of Manassas has named Micah Kemp its new Assistant Director of Economic Development. He will be responsible for marketing Manassas as a community of choice for businesses as well as assisting existing employers with their growth in the City. Micah most recently served with the Fairfax County Economic Development Authority after returning to the East Coast from an economic development role in Portland, Oregon. He began his career in Henrico County, Virginia.

Micah holds a Master of Urban and Regional Planning degree from Virginia Commonwealth University and an undergraduate degree in Public Administration from James Madison University.

When not working, Micah and his partner, Abby, are often hiking, camping, biking, gardening and enjoying the company of their chocolate lab and cat.

WE NEED YOUR FEEDBACK

The Manassas City Council has made workforce development a top priority by focusing on creating initiatives aligned with the needs of the business community.

We first sent a quick, five-question survey on May 20, 2021 and are resending it to increase the response rate. Getting your feedback is crucial to helping us learn how we can better support our business community.

This survey takes 60 seconds or less to complete and is exclusively for businesses in the City (20110 zip code).

As an incentive, respondents will be entered into a drawing for a $25 Heart Beat Gift Card. Ten recipients will be randomly selected, but you must respond by June 15, 2021 to qualify.

We need your participation. To help us get started, please click the Take Survey button below.
