Featured Business Aurora Flight Sciences

If you missed the press release last week, Aurora Flight Sciences announced a major expansion in the City of Manassas. The $13.25 million project will include a state-of-the-art robotics facility with a research and development lab and light manufacturing unit. Already one of the City's largest employers, Aurora will add 135 new high-wage jobs to support the expansion.

This is the second major expansion for Aurora, a testament to the City's leading role in advanced manufacturing.

"Since choosing the Manassas Airport to locate our headquarters nearly 27 years ago, we have prided ourselves in bringing new technology to the region and becoming one of the largest employers in the City," said Founder and CEO of Aurora Flight Sciences John Langford. "Now as part of The Boeing Company, we are able to continue our expansion in developing next-generation autonomous systems that will transform transportation."
